A wheelchair beauty pageant at the Royal Palace of Gödöllő – women who show the world that beauty knows no limits

At the international final of Miss Spinner International 2027, nine women who use wheelchairs will take to the stage to inspire the world with their beauty, femininity and self-confidence. The gala evening will be held on 23 January 2027 at the Royal Palace of Gödöllő, Hungary.

Miss Spinner International is more than a traditional beauty pageant. It is an international initiative that sets out to show that a woman's beauty, elegance, self-confidence and charisma do not depend on whether she stands or sits.

The competition brings to the stage women who use wheelchairs, who embrace who they are, take pride in their femininity and are ready to show the world everything that makes them unique.

By taking part, they are not only pursuing their own dreams but also setting an example for other women with disabilities and for society as a whole. They show that a wheelchair does not define a woman's beauty, personality or potential.

On the Miss Spinner International stage, the wheelchair is not the star – the woman in it is.

An international line-up of nine finalists

Applications for the international final of Miss Spinner International 2027 were received from several countries across Europe and Asia. The applicants included women from Hungary, Italy, Türkiye, Ukraine, the United Kingdom and Russia.

From among the applicants, the organisers have selected nine finalists, who will take to the Miss Spinner International stage at the Royal Palace of Gödöllő on 23 January 2027. The finalists and the countries they represent are listed on page 4 of this release.

Four days of preparation in Budapest

From 19 to 22 January 2027, the finalists will take part in a four-day preparation camp at the Expo Tower Hotel by Mellow Mood Hotels in Budapest.

The programme includes choreography rehearsals, stage coaching, dress fittings, make-up and beauty sessions, and the filming of short introductory videos.

The camp is about more than preparing for the gala. It also gives women from different countries and cultures the opportunity to get to know one another, share their experiences and prepare together for one of the most special stage appearances of their lives.

During the camp, the organisers also plan to offer members of the press opportunities for interviews and filming, by prior arrangement.

An international jury with diverse cultural perspectives

The international character of Miss Spinner International is now reflected not only in the diversity of its contestants but also in the make-up of its jury. At the 2027 final, the contestants will be judged by jury members from a range of countries.

Perceptions of beauty can differ from one culture to another. For this reason, the organisers consider it particularly important that the members of the jury bring different cultural backgrounds, experiences and perspectives.

This diversity ensures that the contestants are not judged by the beauty ideals of a single country; instead, the winner of Miss Spinner International 2027 will be chosen by weighing these different perspectives together.

Elegance and a ceremonial crowning at the Royal Palace of Gödöllő

The gala evening of Miss Spinner International 2027 will take place at the Royal Palace of Gödöllő on Saturday, 23 January 2027. In this remarkable historic setting, guests can look forward to spectacular stage shows, elegant gowns and celebratory performances.

On the day of the gala, following a dress rehearsal at the palace, the finalists will prepare for their evening appearance. With the help of hairdressers, make-up artists and stylists, the gala hairstyles, make-up and final touches to the gowns will be completed.

The highlight of the evening will be the ceremonial crowning of the winner of Miss Spinner International 2027. Doors open at 17:00, and the gala begins at 18:00.

An initiative that also seeks to change social attitudes

Miss Spinner International was conceived and founded by Tibor Kazány, who has himself used a wheelchair for more than two decades. His personal experience played a part in his decision to create an international beauty pageant that gives women who use wheelchairs the opportunity to showcase their beauty, femininity and individuality, while helping to break down social prejudice.

> "When people see the Miss Spinner International contestants on stage, I would like them to notice not the wheelchair first, but their beauty, their elegance and their charisma.
> I would like the competition to set an example and offer encouragement to other women who use wheelchairs, so that they dare to embrace and express their femininity and proudly accept who they are.
>
> It is just as important to me that society looks at people who use wheelchairs with greater openness, and recognises in them all the human values, abilities and possibilities that make each of us unique."
